

KNIGHTS CORNER

December 26, 2021

Merry Christmas! On today, the Feast of the Holy Family, it's good to remember that Christmas is not limited to one day and it's over. Today is Day 2 of the Octave of Christmas, and if you pay attention to the song, you might be getting your true love two turtle doves, which you actually can buy on the internet for anywhere from $190 to $620 a pair! But the Feast of the Holy Family is a good day to remember that the Knights of Columbus, considered by most to be a men's organization, is considered by members to be a family organization. We try to sponsor events for families of all kinds, and certainly the order's insurance programs protect families in times of need. We could do even more, if you were to consider joining our ranks. Go to kofc.org/joinus and become a Knight today. Online membership is free if you use promo code MCGIVNEY2020. After joining online, our Council will contact you so you can transfer into our Council and join your fellow parishioners in charity, unity and fraternity. If you have any questions, please contact Grand Knight Mike Karpus at gk2084@mikofc.org or 616-225-9419
