

BACK TO NORMAL ??

This weekend we are resuming public worship of the Mass (how fitting the feast of Pentecost). It is not the same as before. New rules and regulation are now in place and must be observed by everyone if we are to continue exercising our privilege of gathering and freely worshiping God in public. Even though we might not agree, we are bound by a higher authority to practice whatever it takes to keep our fellow brothers and sisters safe. This means complying with distancing, face coverings and any other regulation that might be required of us. As we open Mass this week-end, there will be volunteers directing traffic, checking attendance lists and escorting you to your seat. Remember to be courteous and follow their directions. Theirs is not an easy job, but necessary. For the sake of the Kingdom we all need to do our part. You as Knights of Columbus have been called on to assist in this new normal by volunteering to do whatever you can. We must be an example to others. Call the office or Stewart Smith (540-0092) and offer your services.
