St. Charles Council #2084

This week I have been thinking again about distractions. I don't know about all of you but it seems lately that when I really want to focus on our Faith a small catastrophe, or even many interruptions, occurs and demands attention. And brothers, I'll be the first to admit it can be overwhelming when the many woes of the world are upon you. But when I finally get those five minutes to refocus and reorder my priorities it is also just simply astounding to see how those problems don't have the same impact. Last Tuesday our COR MENS group was fortunate to relax, share a simple meal, and most importantly a small fire together. There is something to be said about a group of men that discuss anything and everything together. For me it is simply relaxing. With so much going on it was a pleasure to be in such a group where the only goal was to be there. This needs to happen more in our lives. There is always an open invitation for any adult gentleman to attend the COR group so please consider attending. We meet on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at 630pm, usually at St. Charles. I look forward to seeing you.
